'Psyche and Structure - minerals, crystals and personality typology'

In this important two day seminar Peter will share his deep understanding of the crystal structure, which is a significant key to unlock the vast array of medicines made from the minerals, crystals and organic compounds. This is the fruit of decades of proving and clinical work through which he has identified the common themes of the seven classic crystal structures that govern the creation of these substances. It is a rich complement to proving materials, as well as the work of Scholten, Sankaran and Welte. This seminar is an exposition of Peter's recent book, Psyche and Structure and builds on his previous work, Twelve Jewels. Peter will use his understanding of structure, along with standard symptomatology and case analysis, plus the use of the colour symptom to shine a light into the enigma that is our extraordinary materia medica.
